highest price ever obtained for public lands in the state. The public lands in the Snake river valley, which are in the region of American Falls, about 14 miles above that place, a city will doubtless be established in the near future, and a section of school land that was included in the late sale.

The American Falls Canal and Power company has an immense canal, running from a point in the Snake river just above Blackfoot to a point within 14 miles of American Falls, a distance of 55 miles. The canal is one of the largest, probably the largest for irrigation purposes in the United States. For a distance of 40 miles from the intake it is 70 feet wide at the bottom and 90 feet at the top, carrying a volume of water equal to a small river. Not less than 30,000 acres of land will be watered by the canal, and an immense amount of electrical power will be generated. The soil in the tract section of the canal is in the state, the yield from the farms so far cultivated being almost phenomenal.

The officers of the American Falls Canal and Power company are Glen R. Botwell, president; A. A. Sweet, vice president; R. J. Sloan, W. A. Lee, directors; A. H. Thompson, secretary. These are all local men, and they have associated with them a number of eastern capitalists.

CURFEW ORDINANCE.

Chief of Police Issues Orders to Officers on the Subject.

Chief of Police McKenzie has issued orders to all the officers on the force to rigidly enforce the curfew ordinance. The ordinance is as follows: "Minors on the streets and in public places at unreasonable hours prohibited. It shall be unlawful for minors to go or be in or upon any of the streets, alleys or public places in Salt Lake City between 9 o'clock p. m. and 4 o'clock a. m. except when accompanied by some adult person. It shall be unlawful for any parent, guardian or other person having the legal care and custody of any minor under 15 years of age to allow or permit any such minor to go or be in or upon any of the streets, alleys or public places in said city within the time hereinbefore prohibited, unless accompanied by an adult person. It shall be the duty of the chief of police, or someone authorized by him, to ring the alarm bell at the fire station at 9 o'clock each night, or to cause some other signal to be given."

CAMPAIGN FOR MONEY.

Real Estate Association Will Try to Raise $10,000 by Solicitation.

Real estate men interested in raising the $10,000 fund which the association started with a subscription of $500, are now beginning to talk for a canvass to bring in the money, since it is not being poured in upon the head of Secretary Decker.

The action of Attorney General Braden in petitioning for a grand jury has apparently shifted public interest to this as a center rather than to the Real Estate association, which until this action was taken, held the center of the stage.

The Real Estate men are going out for the cash on the ground that it will be impossible for a grand jury to accumulate all the evidence, and that an active citizen's committee will be organized while the grand jury is in session to see that proper affidavits and information go before it.

The board of governors met today to talk the matter over and to plan a money getting campaign among restaurant men and others interested in reducing the price of garden stuff.

One of the worst causes of kidney trouble is the use of "industrial" disease and before the victim realizes his danger he may have a fatal malady. Take Foley's Kidney and Bladder Pills, and you will find it corrects irregularities and prevents Bright's disease and diabetes. For sale by F. J. Hill Drug Co., "The Never Substituted."

WHY NOT A TILE PLANT.

Splendid Clay Beds in Vicinity of Salt Lake Await Development.

There is an effort being made by local industrial promoters to interest eastern capital in the development of the clay beds not far from this city as furnishing the raw material for a first-class factory for the manufacture of roofing tiles and terra cotta. There is no tile or terra cotta factory within a radius of over 1,000 miles from this city, and all other roofing materials are also shipped in here from long distances. State comes either from California or Maine, wooden shingles from British Columbia, and all metal or patent roofing from California or points east of the Missouri river. Architects say that most people here would prefer a tile roof for their buildings. If freight rates were not absolutely prohibitive, being goods f. o. b. at the factory, and therefore the manufacture of roofing tile alone would prove a well paying enterprise in this town, as all this intermountain country including Utah, Idaho, Nevada and parts of Wyoming and Montana are tributary to Salt Lake City. While this mountain country is full of all kinds of stone, no absolutely first class sandstone has been found so far, architects claim, and as other kinds of stone are not fire proof, the manufacture of building terra cotta as well as fire proofing material is bound to be a financial success, as every architect and builder would be glad to use them extensively. It is reported that a car load of terra cotta costing $200 in Chicago would cost $400 in Salt Lake, on account of the freight.

OFFERS COAL SOLUTION.

J. W. Snell Says Fields Can Be Opened Easily and Quickly.

Mr. John W. Snell of this city is of the opinion that the coal problem for Salt Lake and vicinity could be easily solved. Mr. Snell says:

"Judge LeGrand, Young proposes to build a railroad to the head of Emery-canyon, to the quarries of sandstone directly across the river. If an enterprising citizen, Jesse Knight, for instance, would join hands with Mr. Young and extend the road on past Canfield and up Chalk creek, to say, Upton, large quantities of good coal could be obtained, in quantities almost inexhaustible.

"For such a road, not to exceed 30 or 35 miles, beyond the proposed Emery canyon project, rails discarded by the big roads, but plenty good enough for these purposes, could be obtained. A trade made by Mr. Knight and others is already on part of this route. This would, in my mind, be better than building 20 or 30 miles into Utah country, as is proposed.

"The project could be made to partake of the nature of a citizen's coal road and would doubtless find its way into the hands of coal lands along the route. Popular subscriptions to stock would meet with a ready response, with out the least doubt. The idea is well worth the attention of the commercial club and other organizations interested in the welfare of this city and state."

GOLDFIELD TROUBLES ARE BEING SETTLED.

(Special to the "News.")

Goldfield Nev., Sept. 4.—John Roach and his followers were successful yesterday in their fight for control in the local labor field. As this clique is known as the "conservative element" the victory has set the camp in good spirits. As soon as the vote was announced the new officers met and took up the matter of a settlement of the strikes at the Mohawk and Consolidated mines, which arose over change room differences between employers and the miners. The committee comprising J. C. McKinney, an unsuccessful candidate for president, Joe Vice and Joseph Hamilton, member of the legislature from Esmeralda county, spent the night with Manager Finch of the Consolidated and a tentative agreement was the result of the night's conference. The committee and others then boarded a train for Reno to consult with Senator Nixon, president of the Consolidated, and his partner, George Wingfield. Indications point to an amicable settlement of existing labor troubles and as a result the stock markets which Goldfield stocks are sold are already noticing big gains.

POLICE COURT NOTES.

Victoria Alley Habitués Postpone Pleas—Stack Talks Back.

In the criminal division of the city court this morning the cases against the Victoria Alley habitués were postponed until next Monday morning for pleading. The defendants are represented by Atty. Sam King and Wm. Newton.

E. Tyler, the colored man who was charged with the head yesterday by Officer Phillips, was not ready to plead to the charge of vagrancy and disturbing the peace and the case went over until tomorrow morning.

Pat Stack, a teamster, pleaded guilty to a battery upon a boy named Harry Koymann. Pat made a statement to the effect that the boy had annoyed him. Judge Whitaker fined the man $30 and as Pat protested that he was not getting justice, he was assessed another $5 for talking back.

WITH THE POLITICIANS.

The "American" party city convention will be held three days after the Democratic convention, the place to be decided upon by Chairman Darmer and the city campaign committee at a meeting tonight, to be held in the Atlas block at 8 o'clock. This is the second city convention to be announced. The date is Sept. 19, and the convention will be preceded by primaries to select delegates on Sept. 16, and ward primaries on Sept. 15, the day before the city convention. About 50 delegates will qualify for the city convention, the proportionment being on the basis of one for each 15 votes cast for Thomas Weir in 1906.

The Republican city committee is now beginning to take action to get in the field with a convention date. This will complete the list of probable dates, unless a break occurs between the Bransford adherents and those who want a more rabid Mormon-eater in the "American" party ranks.

The Republican committee meeting is scheduled for Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock at room 423 D. F. Walker building, a call for it having been issued by Chairman Willard Hanson, who also has announced that one of its purposes will be to elect a new chairman, as he is not in a position to manage the fall campaign.

With the Democratic and "American" convention dates already set, it seems that the campaign this fall will receive an unusually early start. Previous political battles have not become interesting before the middle of October.

Any Weak Person can gain strength on Grape-Nuts

A member of the Chicago Press Club says she obtained so much benefit from Grape-Nuts food that she wishes to offer a voluntary testimonial: "I had an illness which reduced me greatly, when convalescent I wanted a great deal to eat, but nothing seemed to satisfy me.

"Very soon after a meal I felt that sense of emptiness, 'an aching void' as it were, though really not hungry. The fact is, the food I was then taking was not properly assimilated and I was improperly nourished, which accounts for my lack of vitality and weak condition, constant exhaustion and inability to gain flesh.

"I started in on Grape-Nuts food, husband laughing good humoredly at the time. I ate it with cream, and the result was most surprising. After the first dish of it I felt a great sense of satisfaction. I have gained several pounds, and the old gnawing is gone entirely. I retire and sleep well all night, whereas I used to be awake in the night and was unable to sleep again until I had taken some sort of food."

"Reason." "Husband" was much surprised at the result and tried Grape-Nuts himself. He is delighted with the food. Best wishes for the great food and its makers."

SALT LAKERS ARE HOME AGAIN

Large Gap Made in The Utah Colony at Californian Summer Resorts.

YOUNG GIRL'S LIFE TRAGEDY.

Daughter Elopes With a Much-Younger Man—Gossip of The Ocean—Swept Southern Beaches.

Long Beach, Cal., Sept. 3.—The beginning of September is seeing a large gap made in the Salt Lake colony which has been already lessened by recent departures. A few will stay on till the middle or end of the first autumn month, but October will find none left of the large number of home people who have summered here.

Mr. and Mrs. Golden Kimball and family, who have spent several months here will be among those who leave for home in September.

Mrs. E. A. Tripp and daughter were seen in one of the various bays on the Long Beach midway the other evening. They will occupy the apartment recently vacated by Mrs. Murray Goebel and family.

Mrs. Kate Hardin Whitney, with her children and mother, Mrs. Hardin, spent last week at Long Beach. During the greater part of the summer they stayed at Ocean Park.

At this resort also Mr. and Mrs. Will Clawsen and Miss Lou Clawsen have been stationed for the summer, having a pretty cottage there near the ocean front. They are so pleased with the place that they have serious thoughts of spending the winter there. Artist Will Clawsen divides his time between the seashore and his studio in Los Angeles, and has about on the walls of the cottage a number of effective sketches of the beach scenes. Other interesting sketches are studies for portraits, among them one of Mrs. Huntington, the wife of the late Senator, and the other for a reproduction of the famous portrait destroyed in the San Francisco fire. Other sketches show that his brushes are not idle.

Last Sunday—the 25th—was the day set by the eastern "prophet" for a destructive tidal wave at Long Beach, and the local papers heralded it with more or less facetious comment. When daylight passed and nothing was seen of it, various watch parties were planned for the night, and the usual evening partying was going on. In spite of the proximity of the cottages to the seashore the night was spent in blissful oblivion of the pranks and pranks of the "wave" which was expected to sweep in and sweep out the shore dwellers—even those whose habitations are every month lapped by the high tides.

There are often high waves along the beach, though mostly unannounced and a pitiful tale goes the round of a mother who lost her baby in its carriage on the Pike while she went into one of the curio stores edging the walk. The "Pike" is a long cement pavement level with the sea, and while the mother made her purchases the tide swept in and caught the baby carriage, taking it far out to sea. It was the last time the mother saw her baby. The tide here last month was unusually high, and the sight of the huge breakers rolling in helped one to credit the truth of the "wave" story. All along the beach notices were posted warning bathers to keep out of the surf, and the roller coaster erected out some distance from shore was warned of the danger of being loosened by the force of the waves.

It is worth while alone to stand on the long pier and watch on one side the big yellow moon gliding the great tide, and on the other the myriad lights of the "midway" making a shining constellation along shore. Through pines and palms, band organs, phonographs and hand pianos clamor, and a veritable Coney Island scene acts and re-enacts itself night after night, with some of the most notable Coney points left out—for Long Beach is a "temperance town" and the gayety one sees is all from the heart and not from the head.

Apocryphal of local tragedies—a human—and unfortunately a common one transpired within the past few weeks at a cottage on the sea front where some of the Salt Lakeers had taken a room for a short time. The cottage sheltered a family comprising father, mother and two daughters—one of them an attractive young girl of something over a little over 20 years. In her company was frequently noticed a dashing sort of man whose attentions to the bright girl could not be mistaken. Nothing was visible to betoken that the impending match was not destined to be of the happiest; but after a week's trip the cottage roomers returned to find a dark shadow fallen on the pretty home. The dashing lover had been tracked and denounced by a deserted wife who, with her two children lived at Alamitos—a resort not 10 miles distant. The husband had been employed at Long Beach and had taken a room there on the plea that his children "kept him awake nights." The room changed to be at the home of the young girl in the wife's story. One night she and the dashing lover were missing, and no sign of them has been seen since. The mother goes about with white face and drooping head and the father is a wreck.

"I know one thing," he said, "my girl is a good girl. She would never have gone with him of her own free will. He hypnotized her—that's all there is to it, and when he's tired of her, she'll come back with a broken heart." Since the elopement the Alamitos wife has heard from an eastern city of another one deserted for herself, so that the father's prediction seems fair to come true.

CHEST GIRTHS INCREASING.

A tailor whose firm has been continuously in business in Philadelphia for 16 years, has compiled from his books of measurement some interesting statistics. These statistics show that the American in the past century has grown taller, stronger and slimmer—greater in height and in chest girth, less in the girth of waist and hips.

The average chest of 1750 was 35 inches. It is 35 inches now. The average height was 5 feet 7 inches. It is now 5 feet 8 inches. The length of leg has increased in the same proportion. The shoulders and chest have greatly developed. The waist, on the other hand, has lost two inches.
